

Business Casual Attire

Thank you for choosing Express to assist with your job search. As an Express associate, dressing appropriately is always recommended. Your work attire is an extension of your personal brand and the image of Express. A business casual dress code incorporates a comfortable, relaxed look while maintaining a professional business image.

Suggestions for a business casual dress code:

1. Clean and appropriate clothing.

Your clothing should be clean, well-maintained, and fit appropriately. Avoid clothing that is revealing or better suited for after-hours, which includes tank tops, very short clothing, and tight clothing.

2. Business appropriate.

A business casual dress code is not a casual dress code. It typically does not include jeans, T-shirts, or open-toed shoes. Seek clarity and err on the side of caution with a more professional look.

3. Dress code compliant.

If the client has a dress code, whether it's unique for Express associates or required of all staff, understand and adhere to those guidelines.

4. Practice good hygiene.

Having a regular routine for personal hygiene is a critical part of your appearance, including clean hair, wearing deodorant, bathing, and brushing your teeth.

Examples for a business casual work environment:

- Slacks, may or may not include jeans
- Button-up shirt, collared shirt, sweater, blouse
- Business dress or skirt
- Dress shoes, including appropriate socks
